STANLEY BALDWIN IS NAMED PREMIER OF GREAT BRITAIN

Acceptance of Tender by King George Announced Today.

AREER HAS BEEN BRIEF

By A. S. G. Davis
LONDON, May 22.—Stanley Baldwin is Great Britain's new prime minister. He accepted the present ship of state in this afternoon by King George.

Stanley Baldwin, the new prime minister, played a comparatively minor part in British politics until he advent of the David Lloyd George following the resignation of David Lloyd George and the break up of the coalition which guided British policy during the war.

Under Mr. Lloyd George, he was under secretary to the treasury and president of the Board of Trade.

It was in recognition of his abilities in the field of finance that he was moved to the important post of chancellor of the exchequer by Mr. Bonar Law.

Possibly his most notable achievement as chancellor was his negotiation of a war debt settlement with the United States. Since Mr. Bonar Law does not have personal participation in politics, Mr. Baldwin acted as his spokesman.

Mr. Baldwin acted as spokesman at a meeting of the House of Commons. The new prime minister of age was educated at Harrow, Lady College and Cambridge, is married and has two sons and four daughters.

Mr. Baldwin's political position is somewhat like that of the last foreigner to become prime minister who has gained the lead of their ambitions. It is only within the last few years that he has been prominent in politics.

The question now is whether he will be able to succeed in his task.

I am confident in the ability of Mr. Baldwin to do his best.

When Mr. Baldwin returned to the chief residence of the prime ministering along with the king, he said he told the assembly in the cabinet room that he had come here to find a place to live. Nevertheless, his government has been very active and it is to be expected that they will continue to do so.

New War Between Turkey and Greece Seems Imminent

By A. S. G. Davis
ATHENS, May 22.—Turkish troops are reported to have blown up the bridge over the Marmara River connecting Asia Minor and Europe.

The news was received here yesterday that the structure known as the iron bridge, which had been built by the Turks, was destroyed.

When Mr. Baldwin returned to the chief residence of the prime ministering along with the king, he said he told the assembly in the cabinet room that he had come here to find a place to live. Nevertheless, his government has been very active and it is to be expected that they will continue to do so.

It is to be expected that the new government will be able to live up to its responsibilities.

Vacation Bible School Will Be Held at Christian Church; Open to All Denominations

A daily vacation Bible school will be conducted at the Christian Church for a week just before starting soon after the close of the regular school. Mrs. Virginia W. Lewis, teacher of English in the Lewis school, will be supervisor there. There will be less than 100 students.

ADVANTAGES OF ZONING.

The O'Bryan bill now before the House providing for the enforcement of zoning regulation in boroughs will invest municipalities of this class with the same power and authority in this respect as the MacDowell bill proposes to confer upon cities of the third-class.

These bills have been introduced to meet the heat long felt in municipalities for placing restrictions upon the indiscriminate building of establishments of various kinds in all sections of a municipality. The method by which this purpose is proposed to be accomplished is to create a zoning commission which will make a survey of the city or borough and recommend to the court the boundaries of districts to which buildings or establishments of various kinds are to be restricted such as residence, business, industrial and heavy industrial zones.

Under the zones as established by zoning property owners would have the right to take appeals to a board of adjustment which would have the power to decide such appeals after one special exception where this can be done without injury to the public interest.

To carry out the objects of the bills it is proposed to have the power to designate zones in which buildings of a certain class shall be erected within the height number of stories and size and the percentage of land to be occupied by buildings.

The large purpose to be served by zoning is to provide for the economical development of a municipality and to guard against the construction of buildings of such character or devoted to such uses as will cause inconvenience or discomfort to the residents of neighboring properties or tend to a depreciation of their value. The practical effect of zoning where it has been applied has been that zoning districts are not only absorbing the better grades of development at the expense of unzoned suburbs but they are forcing the undesirable to move into the unzoned towns. Home buyers are attracted to towns which have provided protection of residence rights in the enforcement of property taxes on real estate tax upon zoning as a form of guarantee against the possible depreciation of values.

Zoning has both a positive and negative factor in the development of a community. It encourages the latter and more desirable type. Its exorbitant premiums compel things to be done in the public interest which otherwise would not be done. Its inhibiting present things being done while others could not be prevented.

It is to be hoped that guides the best development to the permanent benefit of both property owners and the community.

As time passes and the lines between the different zones become more strictly drawn the development of each zone helped along by the regulations the benefits conferred by zoning will accumulate and all the time operate for betterment and enable the community to become what it could never become without zoning restrictions.

Zoning is a very visible sign of a progressing community and wherever rapid and safe ownership of property and more desirable values more suitable and residence therein more attractive.

“The Shingle that Never Curls”

The big size of Carey Jumbo Shingles affords these advantages:

1. The shingles are laid with a 5 inch exposure which gives three thicknesses over entire roof.
2. In addition to the larger surface of the Jumbo Shingle they are 23 per cent thicker. This creates stronger shadow effects between joints and at the butts, adding to the beauty of the roof.
3. They are laid much faster than ordinary shingles with a saving of over 33 1/2% in nails and labor.
4. Being made by the same process as the non-curling Asfalt slate Shingles, Jumbo Shingles will not curl — and being thicker will last even longer. We have them surfaced in red, green and blue black crushed slate. The best shingles money can buy.

The Cave Man's Day Is Over

To have plenty of hot water seems to have been one of the things for which civilization has always strived. The primitive man heated water by dropping hot stones in a hole in the ground, lined with skins and filled with water. Then came the stone pots and pans, followed by our modern methods by which we have hot water in our homes, factories and business buildings by merely turning a faucet. Indeed the Cave Man's day is past. If you don't have running hot water in your home you are but little past the Stone Age. However we are ready to equip your home with modern appliances at a reasonable cost to you. Call Bell 346 or Tri-State 122, or see

At the Theatres

The Paramount

“FLAMES OF PASSION” a stupendous picture one that makes your pulses race with excitement provides splendid entertainment today at this theatre. The picture abounds in thrillers which include the runaway train a conflict between Laverne and Whitney, which is the last word in realism a spectacular forest fire and innumerable other scenes which could only be staged in production of this character through the story runs a love theme which is most pleasing. George Larkin ably depicts the hero, Grant Whitney, while Ruth Stonehouse as “Jimmie” Turner daughter of Brutus Turner and in love with Whitney who enthusiastically returns her love. The lovers find the courage of true love anything but sweet due to the machinations of Whitney's enemies. The story was written by George Hively and directed by G. J. Moody and W. J. Pratt. An excellent supporting cast includes Frank Whitson Al Ferguson Frank Whlock Laura Anson and Kali Silvers Wednesday and Thursday More to be Pictured Than Scorned will be shown.

The Soisson

“SMUDGE” showing today at this theatre is a first National picture with Charles Ray in the stellar role as Stephen Stanton a young and peppy college graduate boy has a peculiarly appropriate role and the picture is one of the best in which the star has ever appeared. The story was written by Rob Wagner famous for his motion picture articles in the Saturday Evening Post and the cast includes Ora Carew Charles K. French Florence Cheever J. P. Lockwood Blanche Rose Lloyd Bacon and Ralph McCollough Miss Cheever plays opposite Mr. Ray this being the first time that she has appeared as his leading woman. The scenes are laid in the little town of Citrona which is located in Southern California and which is the center of the orange and lemon industry. The camera has caught many states of orange picking giving the production a pictorial background of great beauty. Upon returning home from college Stephen is presented by his teacher with the title of one of the two daily newspapers in Citrona and he immediately begins the center of a scathing vortex of politics. In a week Stephen is the most unpopular man in town with all but one girl. While she belongs to the ranks of the enemy she loves him and helps him become the hero of Citrona. But this is plenty of trouble for her before the happy ending is reached.

Wednesday and Thursday Katherine MacDonald will be seen in Woman Conquers

The Orpheum

“THE WHITELAW LOWDER” — The feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre presents Betty Compson in the stellar role.

The White Flower was filmed in Hawaii under the direction of Mrs. Julia Cleveland Fiske who wrote the story of the photoplay during a recent visit to the Island. Miss Compson plays the role of a half-caste girl and she is supported by a cast which includes Edmund Lowe Alice Terry Louis Tracy Sylvia Ashton Edward Martindale and Arthur Hoyt. There are many thrilling moments in the development of the story.

Swinging a lithograph pencil daily and trying to dramatize school nights for a total of 19 hours a day proved to be hard to screen success traveled by Alice Terry who plays an important role in The White Flower. Miss Compson had a couple of what the slangs business men would call “swell jobs” before she decided to check their financial security to the lumber exchange in the field of silent drama. A swell job, being respectively, her return to Senator Russell of Lowell and a secretary of the American Conservation Society headed by Gifford Pinchot. No Miss Terry has not had a written or read any of these books entitled “The Will to Accomplish”

Thursday Friday and Saturday face Head a Paramount picture will be shown.

"Yes, desert us. Leave us when we may need you so much, with something besides colding."

Monty uttered a short, hard laugh as he bent a strange look upon the girl.

"Me an' Nels is pretty much scared, an' we're goin' to sleep. Miss Dorothy, bein' as we've rustled round so much, it sorta hurts us to see nice young girls dragged off by the hair."

Dorothy uttered a little cry and then became hysterical. Castleton for once was really annoyed.

"By Gad! You and your partner are a couple of blooming cowards. Where now is that courage you boasted of?"

Monty's dark face expressed extreme vexation.

"Dook, in my time I've seen some bright fellers, but you take the cake. It's most marvelous how bright you are. Flaggin' me an' Nels so correct."

Say, Dook, if you don't git rustled off to Mexico an' rogued to a cactus bush you'll hav a swell story for your English chums. Bah Juvel! You'll tell 'em how you seen two old-time gun-men run like scared jack-rabbits from a lot of guerrillas. Like hell will!"

"Monty, shut up!" yelled Stewart, as he sprang hettishly up. Then Monty slouched away, cursing to himself.

Madelaine and Helen, assured by Castleton, worked over Dorothy, and with some difficulty quieted her. Stewart passed several times without noticing them, and Monty, who had been so ridiculously eager to pay every little attention to Dorothy, did not see her at all. Rude it seemed; in Monty's case more than that. Madelaine hardly knew what to make of it.

Stewart directed cowboys to go to the head of the open place in the cliff handle a Greaser. I shore told you that. He means rough toward us. Hell come smilin' up, all sociable-like, insinuatin' an' sneerin' a woman. But he's treacherous; he's worse than an Indian. An' Gene, we know for a positive fact how his gang been operatin' between these hills an' Agua Dulce. We know just about what that rebel war down there amounts to. It's guerrilla war, an' there's gonna have to be a lot of shootin' things an' cuttin' time for a lot of strong things an' cuttin'."

"Oh, you're right, Nels. I'm not disputing that," replied Stewart. "If it wasn't for Miss Hammond and the other women I'd rather enjoy seeing you and Monty open up on that bunch. I think I'd be glad to meet Don Carlos. But Miss Hammond! Why, Nels such a woman as she would never recover from the sight of real gun-play, let alone any stunts with a rope. These eastern women are different. I'm not belittling our western women. It's in the blood. Miss Hammond is—"

WOMEN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Connellsburg woman who is having buckache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headache and kidney or bladder troubles should be glad to know this Connellsburg woman's experience:

Mrs. Lucia Anderson, 601 York avenue, says: "I was bothered with terrible buckaches which caused misery for hours at a time. When I washed all day or stood before the ironing board, a bursting pain existed in the small of my back third fold, as though a red hot iron had been plunged in my spine. I had dizzy spells especially in the morning and spells appeared before my eyes. I was nearly blind from the effect of those attacks. My kidneys were sluggish too. I purchased Doan's Kidney Pills from Moore's Drug Store and after taking them I was cured."

"He's dead set to arrest me, Nels." "An' he'll do it, like the old lady who kept tavern out West. Gene, the reason that red-faced coyote didn't trill you up here is because he's scared. He alius was scared of you. But I reckon he's shore scared to death of me an' Monty."

"Well, we'll take Pat in his turn. The thing now is, when will that Greaser start us, and what'll we do when he comes?"

"My boy, there's only one way to

"By Gad! You and Your Partner Are a Couple of Blooming Cowards."

and let down lassos. Then, with little waste of words, he mixed the women toward this high ladder of stones.

"We want to kill you," he said when they demanded. "If the guerrillas come we'll tell them you've all gone down to the ranch. If we have to fight you'll be safe up there."

Helen stepped boldly forward and let Stewart put the loop of a lasso round her and tightened it. He waved his hand to the cowboys above.

"Just walk up, now," he directed Helen.

It proved to the watchers to be an easy, safe and rapid means of sealing the steep passage. The men climbed up without assistance. Edith Wayne and Madelaine climbed last, and once up, Madelaine saw a narrow beach, thick with shrubs and overshadowed by huge, tangled crags. There were holes in the rock, and dark fissures leading back. It was a rough, wild place. Tarpaulins and bedding were then hauled up, and food and water. The cowboys spread comfortable beds in several of the caves, and told Madelaine and her friends to be as quiet as possible, not to make a noise, and to sleep dressed, ready to travel at a moment's notice.

Madelaine deplored the discomfort and distress, but felt no real alarm. She was more inclined to evasive kindness here than to sincerity, for she had a decided unshiness. The swift change in the manner and looks of the cowboys had been a shock to her. Her last glance she had of Stewart's face, then seen, almost sad, and haggard with worry, remained to tug at her foreboding.

Darkness appeared to drop swiftly down; the cowboys began their haunting, mournful howls; the stars showed and grew brighter; the wind moaned through the tops of the pines. The cowboys below had built a fire, and the light from it rose in a huge, funnel-shaped glow. Madelaine peered down from the cliff. The distance was short, and even at night she could distinguish a word spoken by the cowboys. They were now acutely cooking and eating.

Presently Nick Steele silenced the campfire circle by raising a warning hand. The cowboys bent their heads, listening. Madelaine listened with all her might. She heard one of the horses whinny, then the faint beat of horse's hoofs. The beat of hoofs grew louder, entered the grove, then the circle of light. The rider was Nels. He dismounted, and the sound of his low voice just reached Madelaine.

"Gene, it's Nels. Something don't."

Madelaine heard one of the cowboys

By JAMES M. DRUGGIE

Coker Independents Will Play Reineckers Here on Next Saturday Afternoon

Local Outfit Will Meet Only Best Teams in This End of State.

B. & O. ALSO IN FIELD

The Connellsville Independents are setting a fast pace from the beginning this year, judging from the schedule arranged, which shows only teams of the highest class. The next opponent will be the Reineckers of Pittsburgh, Saturday afternoon, and local fans know that what aggregation can do.

The Pittsburgh club has played in Connellsville before and was one time the club to which McKinley, Coker third baseman, belonged. He played with the team on its former appearance here.

B. R. Boyd, the manager of the team, is a baseball enthusiast and his players are of the same make-up. That factor alone makes the club a hard one to beat. Connellsvillians, however, were as well pleased with the performance of the local club, which gives promise of being the best ever representing the city, that another big crowd Saturday afternoon is assured. The town has attracted much attention and many unable to attend the opener will be on hand for the clash with the Reineckers.

RAILROAD TEAM WILL PLAY WEDNESDAY AT HOME, FIRST JUNE 6

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad men here will have another baseball team this year and will play games on Wednesday evenings. The club expects to have a better season than ever in its history and will book only first-class aggregations. Manager Bowser announces.

Enthusiasm is at high pitch in the shop yards and general offices. The first game will be played on June 6 and it is likely that Cumberland will be the attraction.

In addition to playing the different terminal trains the club expects to book contests with Confluence, Smithton, West Newton and after the Uniontown Elk and Masontown for games.

Tornadoes Have Three Games for the Week

The Paul Tornadoes are willing to book games with teams in Class B abroad on May 30, (double header) and for other holidays such as July 4 Flag Day, June 14 and Labor Day Games for those dates are for game abroad. With John Harbin, Vanderbilts, Pa., or call 31-Z Tri-State when booking games with the Tornadoes.

The Tornadoes have added several more games to their schedule. Andy Trotter meets the Tornadoes at the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A. grounds. On Wednesday, May 23, the Fort Pitt Tigers will meet the Tornadoes at the same grounds. Friday, May 25, the Tornadoes will travel to Phillipsburg, where they will meet the Class B team of that place. Henry Washington, known as "Frank," will twirr the first game of the week, Anderson the second, Davis the third.

Of Interest to Fans.

Greensburg's prowess seems to be confined to the football field only. In the Westmoreland county schools football field meet held last week Latrobe carried off all honors and Greensburg did not even get a single point.

The Pittsburgh Pirates began the series in Philadelphia in a fitting manner, winning the opener, 6-3. The Quakers made an attempt to even things in the ninth but could only score a single run.

The Bucs are now back in second place, the victory yesterday putting the club slightly ahead of St. Louis.

Three doubles, a base on balls and two errors enabled the Detroit Tigers to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, 5-4. Up to that time the Athletics had the game sewed up with a three run lead, the score being 4-1.

Piles are usually due to straining when constipated. Nujol being a lubricant keeps the food waste soft and therefore prevents straining. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it not only soothes the suffering of piles but relieves the irritation, brings comfort and helps to remove them.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicament or laxative—so cannot grip. Try it today.
